

BECKER'S SPINE REVIEW

Spine surgeon leader to know: Dr. Gary Ghiselli of Denver Spine Surgeons

Written by Megan Wood | Monday, 27 July 2015 00:00

Gary Ghiselli, MD, a board-certified spine surgeon, is a board member of the Colorado Orthopedic Society. He researches problems in the cervical, thoracic and lumbar spine. Dr. Ghiselli also serves as a Guideline Committee Member for the NASS, is a member of AAOS and the Colorado Medical Society.

Dr. Ghiselli focuses on anti-microbial substrates, stem cell and regenerative technologies in his research. He is a member of the Cervical Spine Research Society and investigates FDA trials dealing with motion preservation in the lumbar spine, cervical total disc replacement and stem cell applications.

He graduated from University of Texas, Southwestern Medical School in Dallas and completed an internship at UCLA General Surgery in Los Angeles. Dr. Ghiselli did his fellowship in spinal surgery with a focus on cervical spine disorders and trauma at the University Hospital of Cleveland under Henry H. Bohlman, MD.